A Better Way to Manage Member Access

Fitness centers have unique operational challenges that, if left unchecked, can make or break even the most successful business. Managing members and controlling access to your facility are often at the top of the list because they affect daily operations, revenue and profitability, safety and security, and long-term liability—especially when unauthorized individuals find ways to gain access without paying.

Kindoo has a better way to manage fitness center access with greater accuracy and fewer hassles while helping reduce access-management costs.

Eliminate Physical Credentials and Membership Sharing

Kindoo eliminates the need and expense of physical membership credentials. No more fobs, membership cards, barcodes, or PIN codes that can be shared, stolen, lost, or passed to unauthorized users. Instead, members use their smartphones as unique credentials, helping reduce unauthorized access because sharing access would generally require giving another person their phone, which is highly unlikely even among close family members and friends. Plus, you can eliminate the need to purchase, stock, and track membership credentials, reducing inventory costs and the staff time needed to manage physical credentials.

Get the most out of your business

- Increase revenue with custom membership options based on different zones within the gym. You can define different access schedules for each type of membership.
- Provide added perks for premium members, by giving them special access permissions (24h gym access, pool/sauna/steam room access, special classes access).
- Make sure only paid members can access the gym facilities.

Streamline the registration process

- Grant immediate gym access when members register on your website through Kindoo's API integration. Depending on their membership type, they receive access to the zones included in their package.
- Issue guest passes for any duration (e.g., day passes, weekly passes) and Kindoo will automatically revoke them at the end of their trial period.

An Easier, More Cost-Efficient Way to Manage Member Access

How much does it cost for you to manage access for each member every month? With Kindoo, you can automate member-access onboarding and revocation when membership status changes with little or no staff interaction for as little as $0.70 per active user per month.

Kindoo user seats can be purchased in bulk and reassigned to different members when needed. When one member leaves, a new member can be assigned their seat without purchasing an additional user seat.

For Example:

User Seats	User Seat Cost	Total Monthly License Cost
500	$0.70 each	$350
1,000	$0.70 each	$700
1,500	$0.70 each	$1,050

Fitness centers with larger membership bases can contact Kindoo for customized pricing.
